BMG Joins Decisioneering's Six Sigma Partner Program

Denver, April 27, 2005 – Decisioneering®, Inc., an innovator of software and services for risk analysis and optimization, today announced that Breakthrough Management Group (BMG), Inc., an internationally recognized leader in Six Sigma technologies, training and consulting, has joined Decisioneering's Six Sigma Partner Program. As a Six Sigma Partner, BMG will work with Decisioneering to promote the use of Crystal Ball® simulation and optimization tools within its Six Sigma training initiatives.

Founded in 1999 by some of the world's most well respected Six Sigma experts, BMG has become a global leader in Six Sigma consulting and training with offices in 12 countries around the world. Over the last several years, BMG consultants have seen a rising demand for simulation and optimization software from their clients, especially in the area of Design for Six Sigma (DFSS).

"Simulation and optimization is a critical component of any Six Sigma initiative," said Brian Watson, Vice President, Product Development at Breakthrough Management Group. "Joining Decisioneering's Six Sigma Partner Program will allow us to integrate Crystal Ball software into our Design for Six Sigma training and consulting programs and to meet our clients' need for higher accuracy in their business-critical information."

"Our history of producing the best simulation and optimization software on the market is further strengthened by our partnership with BMG," said Jim Franklin, CEO of Decisioneering, Inc. "Crystal Ball is becoming an indispensable part of companies' Six Sigma training programs."

Decisioneering's Crystal Ball line of Microsoft® Excel-based analytical software is used by thousands of businesses in industries ranging from Six Sigma, oil and gas, financial services and pharmaceuticals to assist individuals and organizations in making more informed business decisions. In 2002, Decisioneering launched its Six Sigma Partner Program, a co-marketing effort that provides consultants who practice Six Sigma, Lean Six Sigma and DFSS with materials and assistance for their Crystal Ball training and implementation.
