

Hertzler Systems sponsors ISSSP Six Sigma Leadership Conference

Hertzler Systems is an Exhibiting Sponsor for the ISSSP Six Sigma Leadership Conference, slated for Scottsdale, AZ on May 8 & 9, 2007.

Goshen, IN, April 12, 2007 – Hertzler Systems Inc., a leading provider of real-time data acquisition and analytics software (<http://www.hertzler.com>) will be an Exhibiting Sponsor at the Leadership Conference of the International Society of Six Sigma Professionals (ISSSP) on May 8 & 9 in Scottsdale, Arizona.

ISSSP's dynamic three-day Leadership Conference is the leading forum for sharing Six Sigma best practices in an environment that allows attendees to network and learn the latest advances in Six Sigma from experienced leaders, engage in high-level discussions about critical issues, and gain valuable insights that can enable breakthrough results in their own deployments.

Roxanne O'Brasky, President of the ISSSP, welcomed Hertzler's participation in the conference. "Hertzler Systems is one of the leading edge suppliers to the Six Sigma market place. Our members need opportunities to learn about new tools so they can increase their productivity and effectiveness, and the Leadership Conference is a natural place to bring suppliers like Hertzler together with the Six Sigma community."

Evan Miller, President of Hertzler Systems agreed, saying "The Leadership Conference is all about learning, and we sponsor the event to learn from key individuals in the marketplace and to share what we've learned about eliminating the Six Sigma Data Shuffle. It is a great place for that learning exchange to take place."

During the conference, attendees will have the opportunity to learn about Hertzler's new Enterprise Dashboard module and inRealTime™, the software plug-in that makes MINITAB<sup>(R)</sup> a real-time data collection system.
